

I began volunteering with the Society of St. Vincent de Paul at a time in my life when I was looking for a way to get closer to God. One Sunday a lady spoke at our church regarding the Society and I immediately had confidence this was the work of the divine providence. I felt God wanted me to be there that day, and it was His will having me the answer the call to serve. Ultimately, I found if God was with me, I did not find it a challenge, rather a way of serving Him and His people. The Catechism states, "man was created to praise reverence and serve God and by this means to save his soul." That day the Holy Spirit truly touched me, and I knew it was the will of God and it has brought me joy and peace. If you are not a member of St. Vincent de Paul, I encourage you to come and join us as we grow in holiness, friendship and serving those in need.
